Alleged Burglars Fall Into Bay Rum Trap

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] PETERSBURG, July 22.-Bay rum proved an effective burglar trap at the sales commissary at Camp Lee last night when the warehouse was entered by two young white men. Included in the articles stored in the place was a quantity of bay rum and this proved too much of a temptation to the would-be burglars, with the result that they drank too much and fell in a drunken stupor to the floor without molesting anything else in the place.

The place was found broker open; an investigation revealed the two men on the floor, drunk from the effects of the bay rum. They were taken into custody and are now held at Camp Lee on the charge of breaking into the warehouse. Their identity is withheld until the matter is brought to the attention of the Federal authori-ties at Richmond.

A party of motorists, including Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Richards and Miss Dorothy Richards, of Steubenville, Ohio, were passing through, visiting Civil War battlefields and other points of interest, and A. D. Mason, a member of Winchester Lodge, No. 65, Knights of Pythias, noticing a lodge pin on the coat inpel of Mr. Hunter, introduced himself.

During a general conversation Mrs. Hunter said her father. Thomas Buchanan, nad been mortally wounded in the battle of Kernstown, three miles south of Winchester, but they never had been able to locate his grave. She said the family had retrieved a letter about sixty years ago from Catherine Dean, a 12-year-oid girl of Kernstown, saying she and
